

Optics Journal: Editorial

Published 2014/03/30
©Optics Journal (2014)

ISSN: 1936-9808

From: F. J. Duarte, Laser Physicist (Optics Journal, New York, 2012)©

On nanogods

Indeed, science and human imagination, might eventually create totally artificial forms of life thus turning scientists into nanogods. In this regard, the works of the great physicists have made possible the emergence of nanogods. Then, if man is capable of turning himself into a creator, is it not possible that, following the Big Bang, mankind itself was pre-programmed as a subcomponent of the universe?

F. J. Duarte