

Optics Journal: Editorial

Published 2014/08/01
©Optics Journal (2014)

ISSN: 1936-9808

From: F. J. Duarte, Laser Physicist (Optics Journal, New York, 2012) p. 168©

On extraterrestrial life II

Thanks to the genius of physicist Luis W. Alvarez (1987), we know that the Earth was struck by a giant asteroid some sixty five million years ago. It was that collision, that wiped out the dinosaurs, it was that collision that eventually gave us a chance. Without that miraculous collision the Earth would belong the reptiles. Finding a planet like ours won't be easy, finding extraterrestrial life like ours, will be even harder.